DILLARD UNIVERSITY

A Year to Remember

Many groundbreaking things have happened in 2001 and 2002. It has been a year of both mourning and celebration. Whether directly or indirectly, Dillard students have been greatly affected by the happenings of this year. Americans' way of life were threatened September 11th, when hijackers crashed two commercial airplanes into the twin towers of the World Trade Center in New York City. Another commercial airline crashed into the Pentagon and one crashed in Pennsylvania.
Preceding the September 11th tragedy, singer and actress Aaliyah Dana Haughton and 8 members of her entourage died when their twin-engine plane crashed due to overloading. The R&B sensation that seemed destined for superstardom was only 22 years old.
In spite of the tragic events, many Americans found new reasons for celebrating. The African-American community had a cause for celebrate after this years Academy Award for best actress, the first time an African-American woman has one in the category. Denzel Washington took home the award for best actor, becoming the second African-American to do so since Sidney Portier in 1963. Portier was also given an honorary award by the Governors of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Young R&B star dies in fatal plane crash. Aaliyah Dana Haughton, age 22, was loved by many and missed by all.

September 11th Tragedy hits Home. Carol Miller leads students in prayer after the terrorists attacks. Students assemble to pray for peace in the nation and for the victims.

African-Americans make great impact on The Academy Awards. Denzel Washington and Halle Berry celebrates after winning awards for Best Actor and Best Actress.

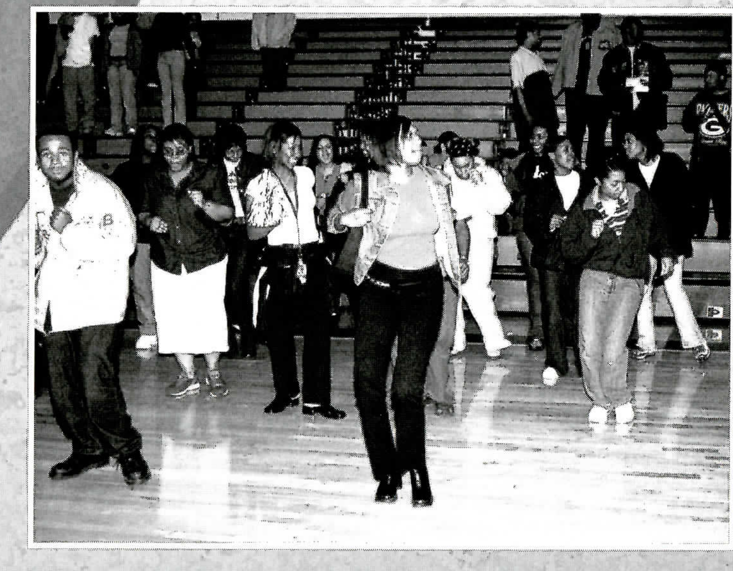

Dillard goes primetime with Bet's Hits From the Streets.

Dillard students come together through prayer and song to reflect on the terroists attacks and provide support to fellow students.

Stephanie Gantt Ms. Black and Gold 2002-2003 is congratulated by Xavier's Ms. Black and Gold Chakita Holmes.

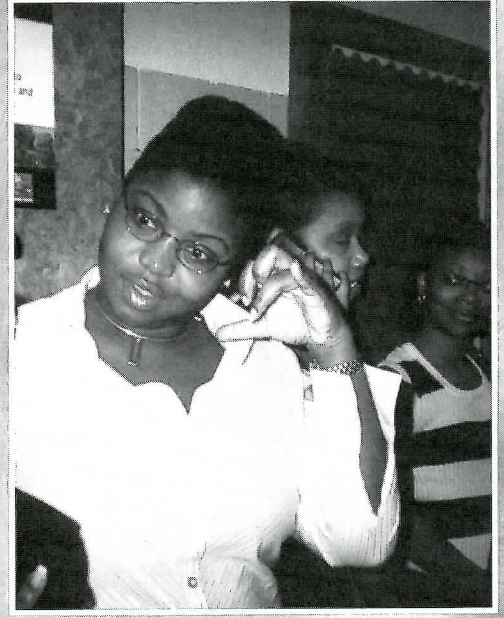

Bunny Hop with it! Students celebrate after a Blue Devils basketball game by doing the latest dance.

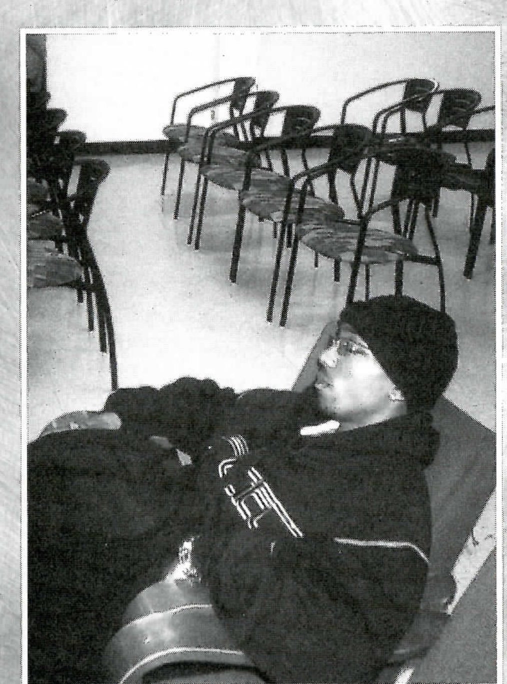

Students are all smiles at a Dillard versus Wiley College basketball game.

"What were you doing?"

Well, Dillard University, we hate to do it, but we have to. Have you ever said, "I wish I would have had my camera?" Well, we had ours. Is that your friend stuffing his face on Kabacoff Plaza or your girl playing under the bleachers? Thanks to all of the students who have given us a laugh this year, and by the way, we gotcha!

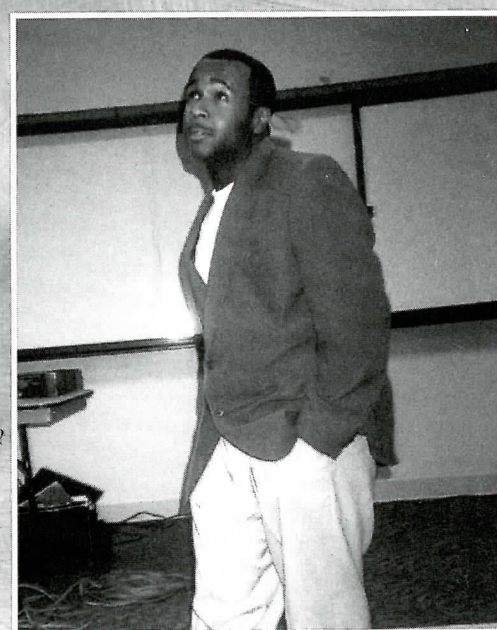

Is Kimberly telling a scary story or using sign language?

Nothing like a nice daytime slumber in Kearny.

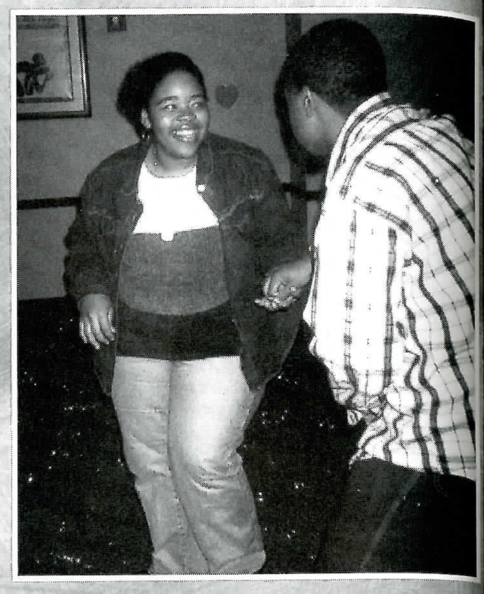

I said no autographs!

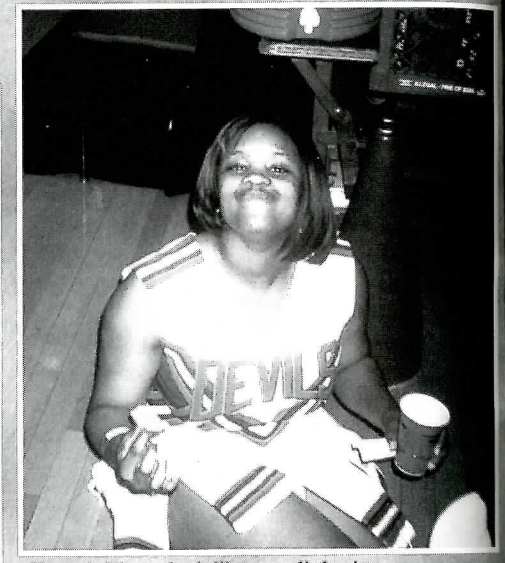

"Yeah, I'm fly. You want me."

Now, how do you explain this one, Mary?

Alright then Navarra? How low can you go?

Doesn't Ebony look like your little sister, right before she is about to tell on you?

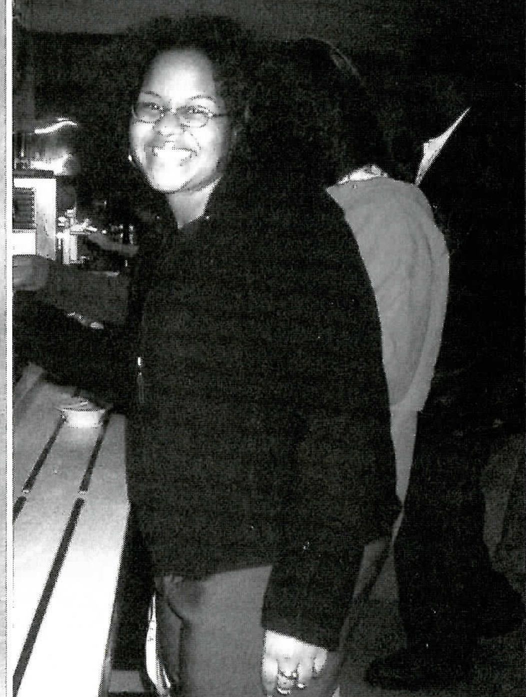

Do we really have to go to this class today?

ALL SMILES

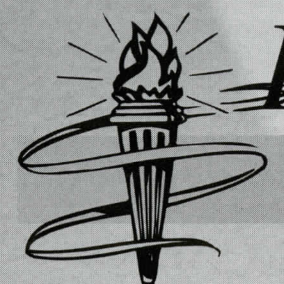

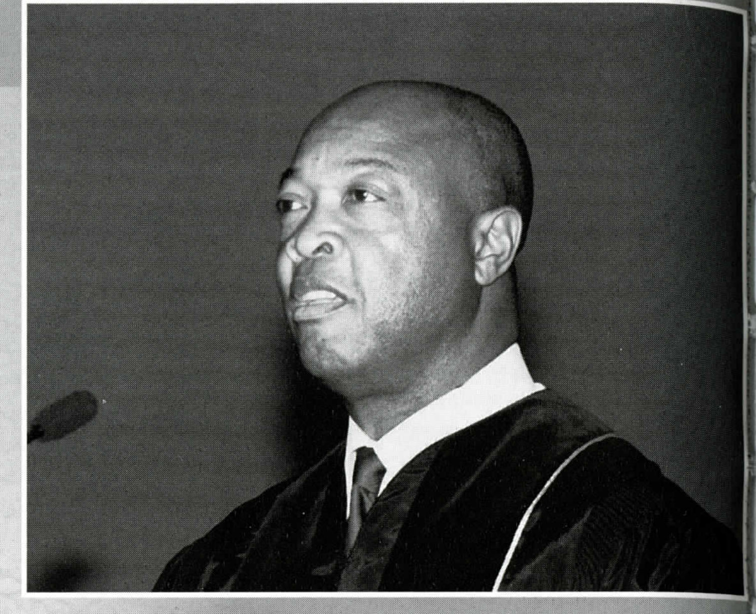

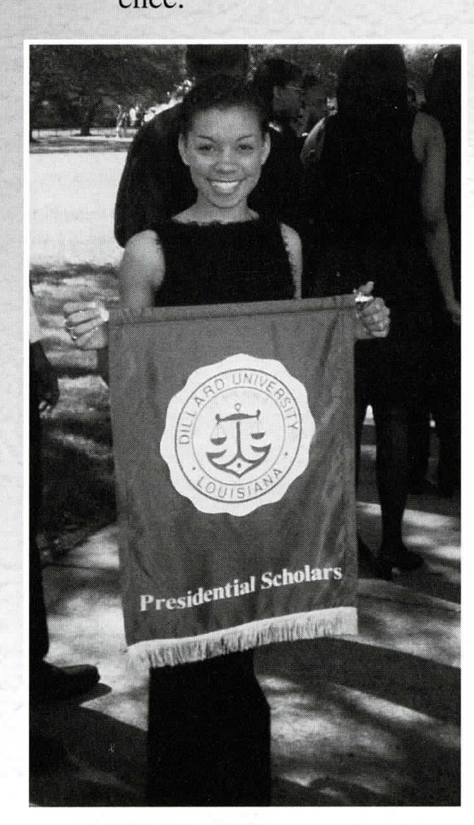

Honors Day Convocation

This year, the Honors Day Convocation celebrated 132 years of excellence at Dillard University. On February 21, in the Alfred K. Lawless Memorial Chapel, John Ruffin Ph.D., the Director for the National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities, was the guest speaker. University and presidential scholars were honored as well as students who received Deans List and Honor Roll merits. The chapel activities were followed by a luncheon in the West Wing of Kearny where students received honor certificates. Later, Jerry Ward, Ph. D., the Lawrence Durgin Professor of English at Tougaloo College, held a dialogue with the audience.

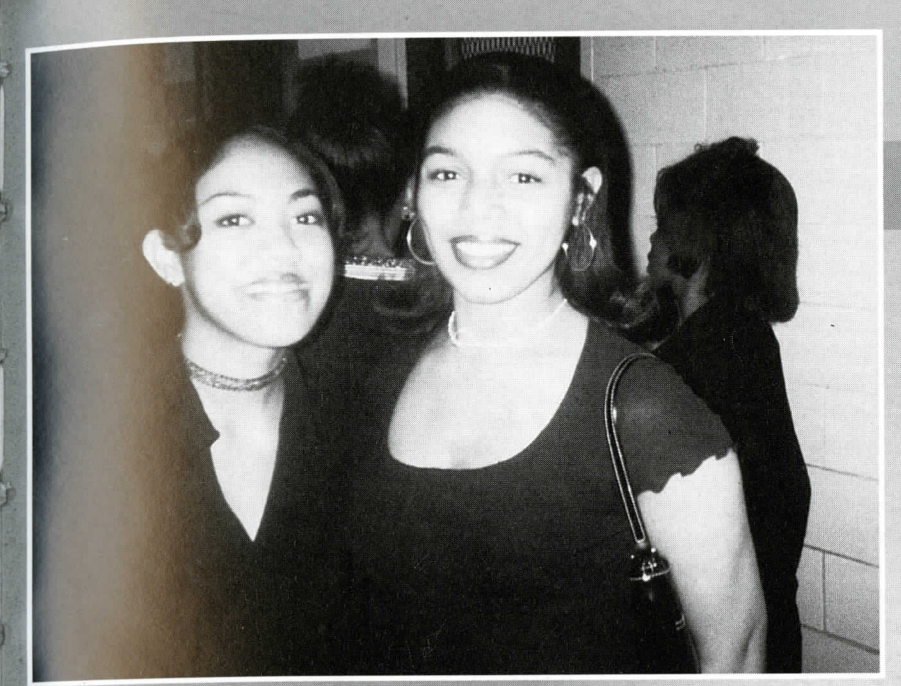

Returning home. Dr. John Ruffin Ph.d, a graduate of Dillard, speaks to scholars about scholarship and the world beyond Dillard.

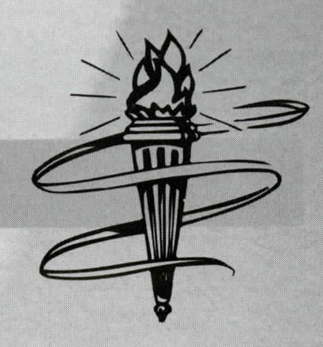

Over here guys! Freshperson Dallas Reed lets presidential scholars know where they are supposed to be.

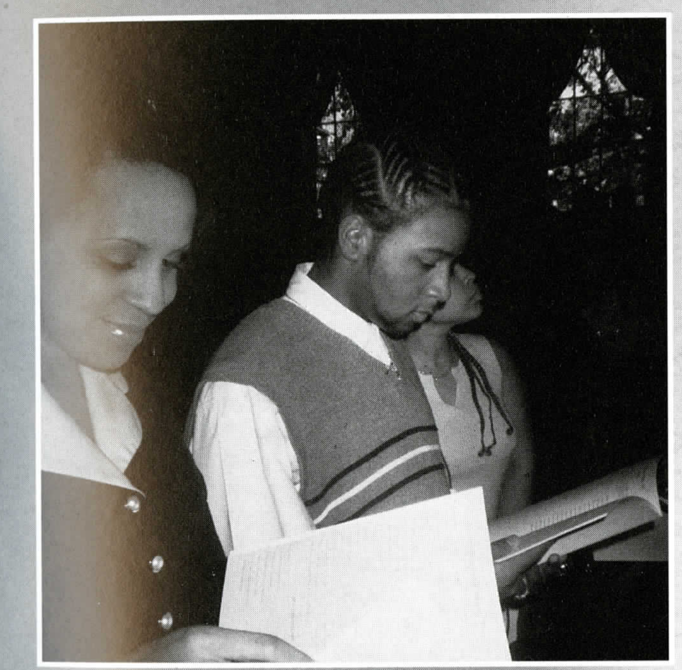

Make a joyful noise. The University choir gives another excellent performance at Convocation.

O...FIVE! Freshpersons Jonte Thibodeaux and Barrye Brown show that their class works as hard as it plays.

Shavon Tate looks through her program at Convocation.

Dr. Jerry Ward Ph. D. lectures about black intellectualism after Convocation.

Creme of the crop. Tanisha Baldwin, Brandi Simmons, Leslie Edwards, and Christina Wilson were among the students honored for meritous work.

Freshpersons clean up well. Desi Valentine and Marcus Harris show off their business attire before marching to chapel.

Making the Right Choice

Cake and a smile! Chenita Landry serves up her competition.

Tag-team Tanisha Lawrence and Christina Wimbley campaign for their sorors.

Why elect Kristin Nevels for SGA Vice President? Well, because she's as cute as a button.

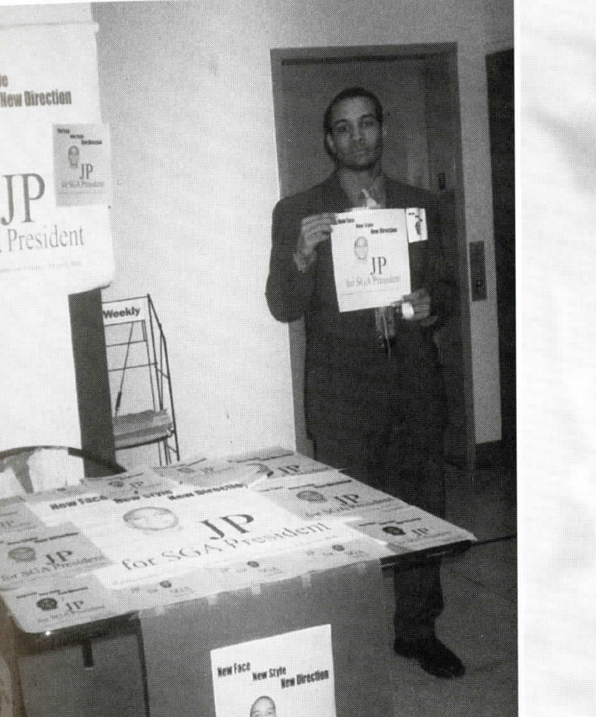

More is more! Miss Dillard Vanessa Abram caters to her constituents.

SGA Elections

2002-2003

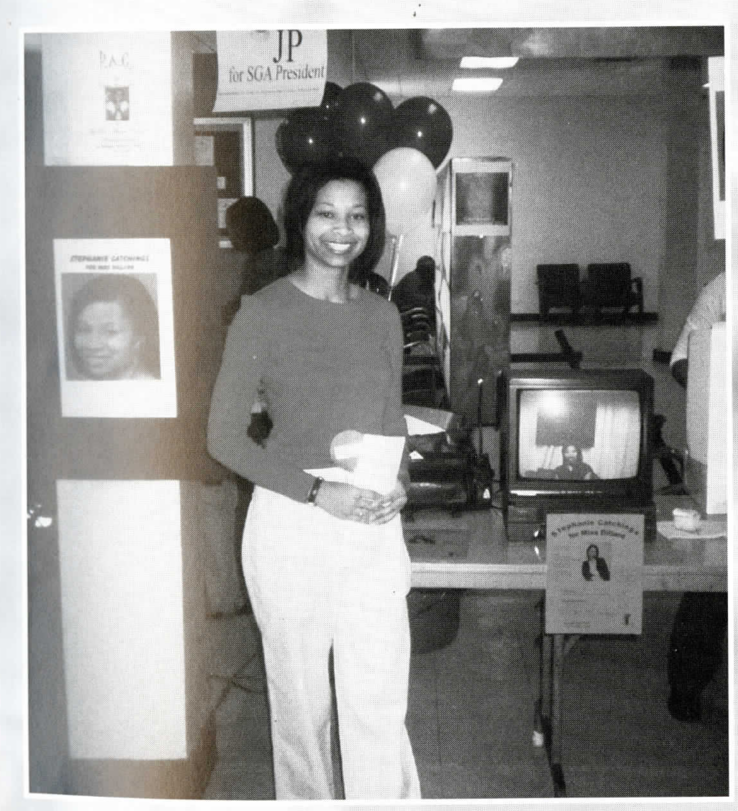

A new face for the future, Candidate Jean Phillipe does a one man show in Kearny.

To be elected to the Student Government Association is a tremendous honor. You become responsible for implementing the wants and needs of your class. As a representative one must become a beacon to their fellow classmates.

The future 2002-20003 officers of SGA have pledged to not only gain your trust but keep it. They are ready to work for you. All your concerns and complaints shall be heard whether you are a freshperson or senior.

These officers represent everything that is good about your class. They are active in various venues. They are leaders in the Dillard community and dedicated students. They generously give their time and effort for community service.

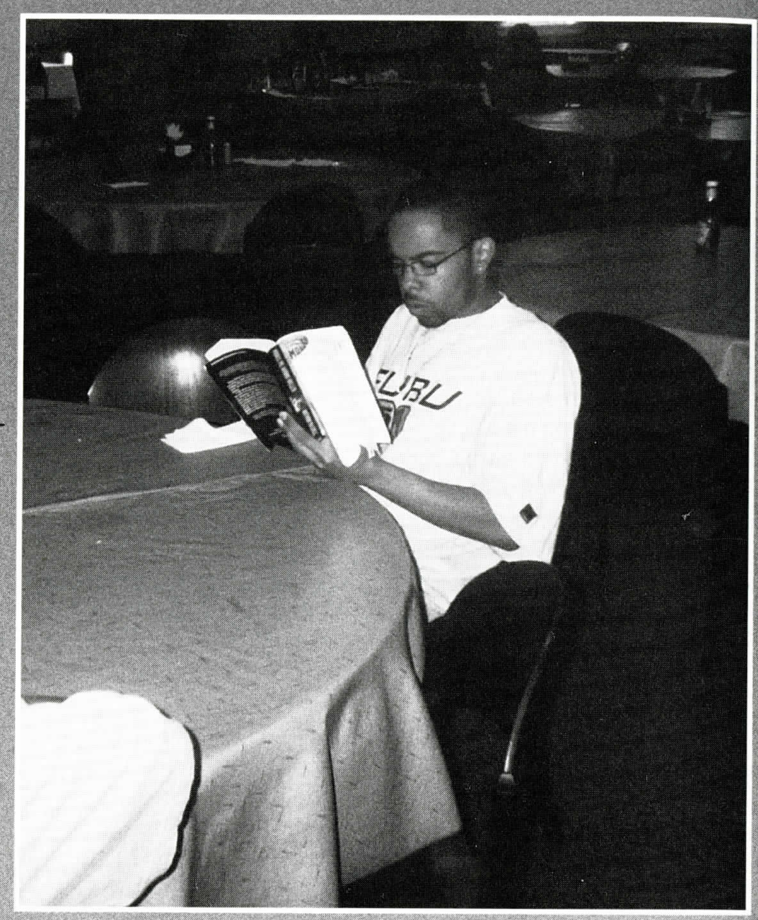

All candidates have been campaigning for your support. One must make a difficult yet necessary decision and choose the right person. The 2002-2003 SGA will, with your choices, be very successful.

The Miss Dillard election meets the new wave of technology. Candidate Stephinie Cathchings finds a new medium for getting her point across.

Dillard Reaches a Level of Higher Learning

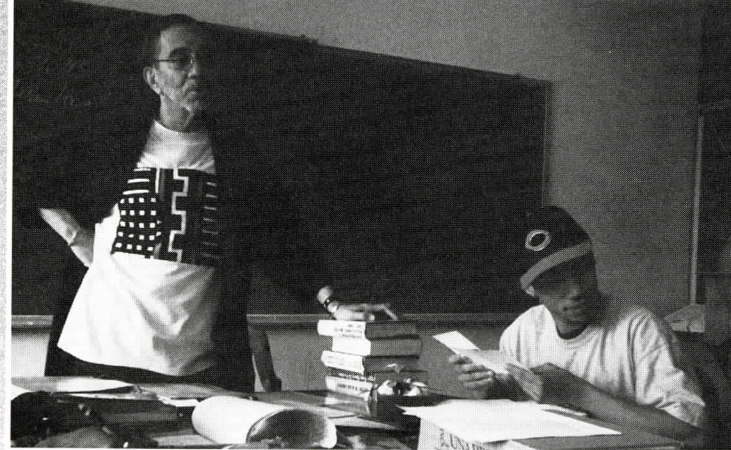

The learning experience of college is dynamic and incorporates the mechanisms of higher learning. In college, students are exposed to controversial topics, brilliant students, challenging obstacles and thought-provoking professors. These professors know that alternative measures are sometimes the most beneficial and unforgettable. Through seminars, lyceums, forums and discussions, the students' minds are elevated and encourages to study and become successful and innovative in their fields of study. By exercising time-management skills to make study time available, these students are on top of everything and are excelling to a level of higher learning.

Students in Ms. Ellen McMillan's photography class get a breath of fresh air while learning the ins and outs of photography.

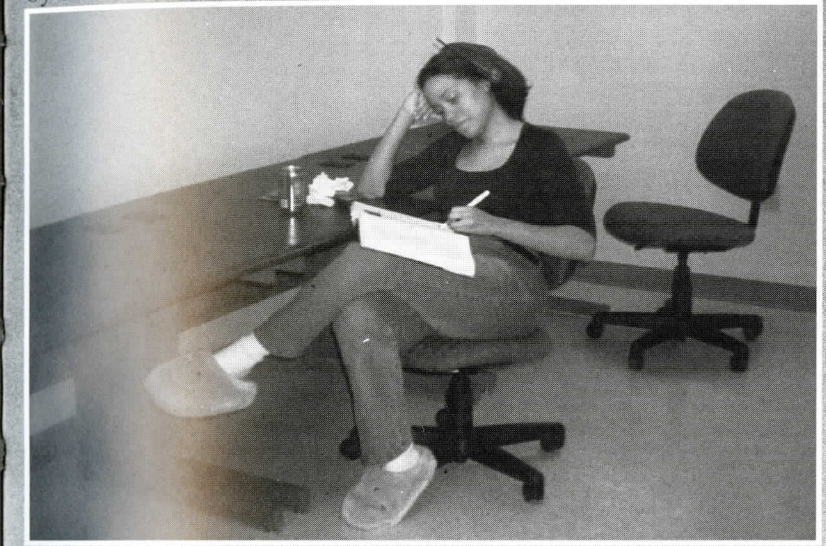

Dr. Alan Colon passes knowledge about the stuggles and triumphs of Black America.

Freshperson Malana Joseph watches as Tony Marcano gives pointers in the New York Times copy editing workshop sponsored by the Mass Communications department.

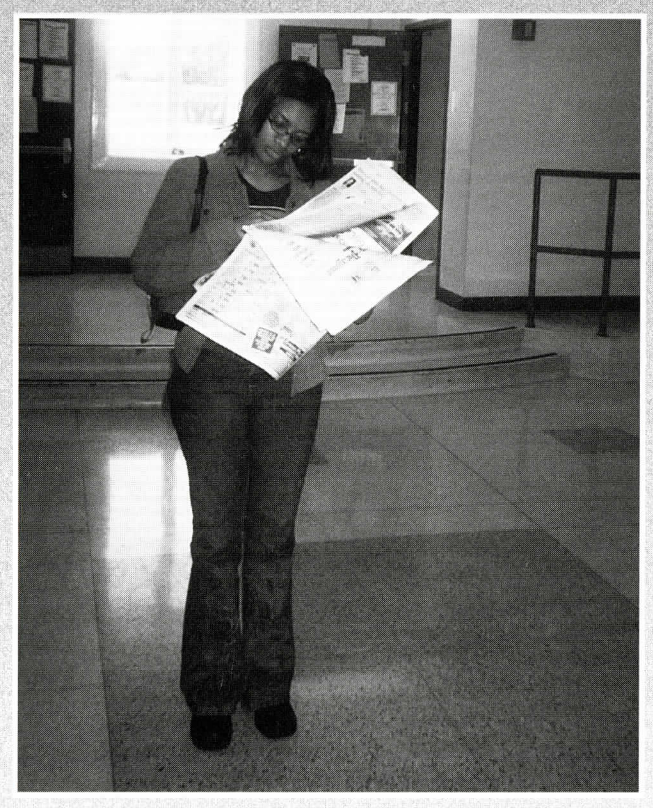

Junior Teralyn Wade is comfortable and ready to do some real studying in the Williams Hall study lounge.

Gotta make the grades! Anthony Clinton takes his studies seriously in a Nelson Complex lounge.

Chinyere Onkenekwu proves you can enjoy a beautiful day and still get work done.

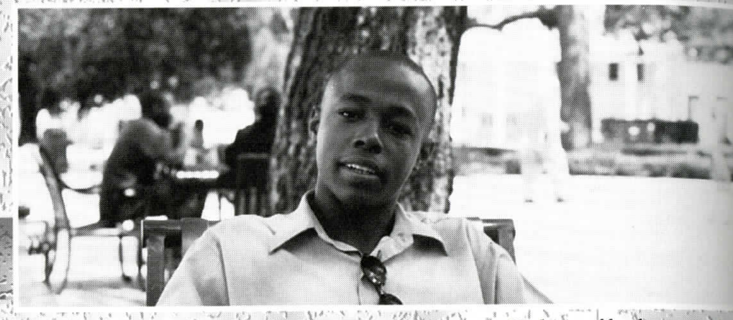

Junior Michaele Nicole Cohns stays on top her academic work and current events by reading a local newspaper.

The Yard and Beyond

Whether it's a bench on the oaks, the bar stools in Kearny, or that comfy sofa in Camphor, students at Dillard find time to kick back, relax and enjoy their lovely campus.

It's a family affair. Cousins Joy and Rachel Garrison show some love.

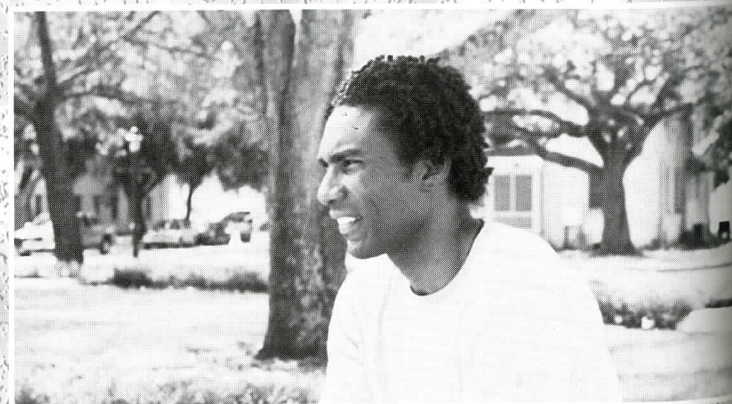

Freshperson John Paul Attuye relaxes on Kabacoff after class.

The Yard is not the only place to have fun after a full day of classes. Freshpersons take advantage of their free-time and play Monopoly in Straight Hall.

Sophomores Brandon Cherry, Larry Towers, and Derek Williams chill after eating dinner.

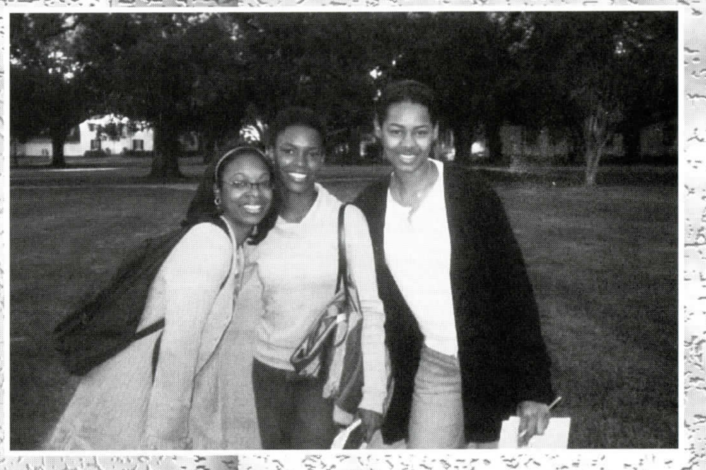

Senior Ike Ram checks out the scene on Kabacoff.

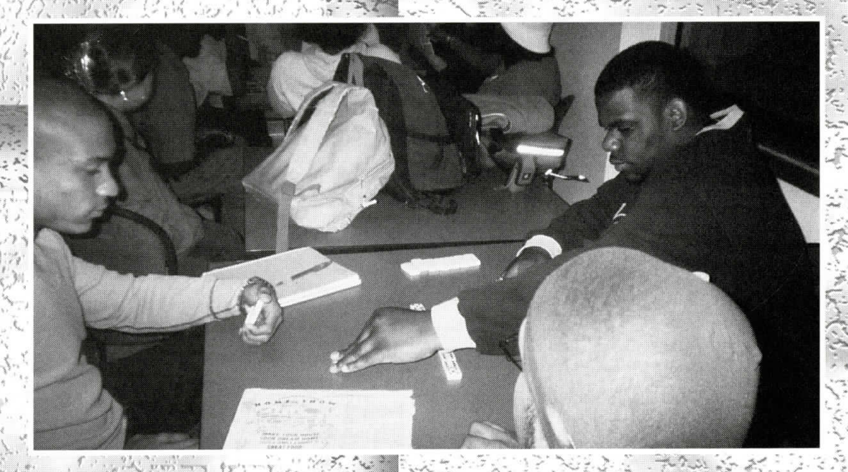

We love this guy! Sophomore Alexis Cossey and freshperson Joia Thornton cozy up to Senior Mitchell James.

Juniors Kia Charles and Shanell Johnson on their way to Kearny.

Kyle Jones and Harry Cass leave their soror Chalet Brown hanging.

Is spades the official college card game? It just might be. Off-campus students unwind in Kearny lounge.

Holidays

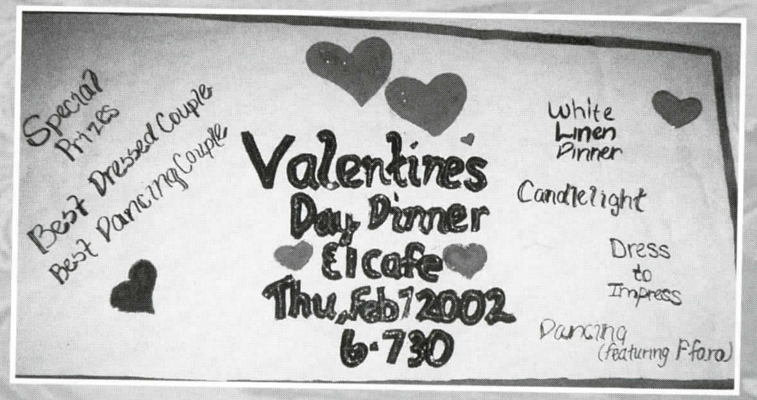

As usual Dillard students go all out during the holiday seasons. Whether attending a campus function or activity off campus, students made sure they had a fun filled holiday.

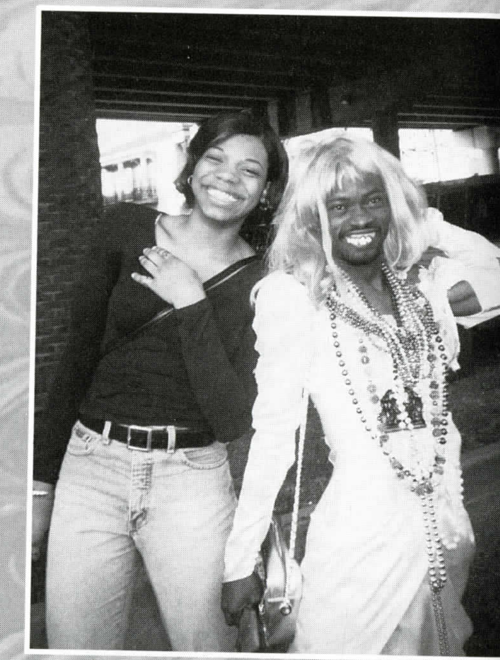

I know what you did after class. Students joke around after the Halloween party in Henson.

The Valentine's Day dinner, dubbed the steak and shrimp dinner by students, was a huge success.

Leave me alone! Sophomore Deondra Hagans has a laugh with a Mardi Gras

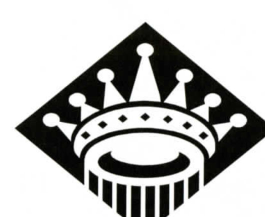

Halloween in Henson, purrrfect! Catwoman Stephanie Gantt could not wait to get her claws on Junior Terrence Andrews.

CORONATION

To My Revered Dillard University Family:

Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives; he who seeks finds; and to him who knocks, the door will be opened." Matthew 7:7-8

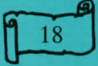

Three years ago, I asked God to make my years at Dillard special. Today I can say that God heard and answered my prayers. During my freshman, sophomore, and junior years, I sought the position of attendant to Miss Dillard University and I obtained it. Last semester, I prayed for an opportunity to serve as Miss Dillard, and here I stand. I stand giving thanks to God for being the head of my life. I stand with honor and appreciation for the student body electing me. I stand grateful for the support of members of the faculty and staff. I also stand knowing the love and support of my family and friends has brought me thus far. As Miss Dillard University 2001-2002, I will be all that a representative should be-caring, supportive, and hardworking. I wholeheartedly accept and understand the responsibilities that my position entails. My duties as Miss Dillard University will not begin and end at the Coronation Ceremony, but will exist and continue from the first day I'm installed to the end of my reign. I view my reign not as a superficial fanciful state, but as an apparatus that will allow me to reach out to the community. As Miss Dillard University, I vow to be that visible, motivating, positive force that encourages the entire Dillard University family to strive to make a positive contribution in the community. Just as I have for three years, I will continue to coordinate projects and activities that enhance the involvement of my Dillard University Family in the community. The community not only includes the external boundaries of Dillard University, but it also includes internal walls of Dillard University. From organizing campus discussions, health awareness programs, staff appreciation events, to planning Senior Citizen Christmas Programs, Walk-a-thons and Habitat for Humanity projects, I will inspire my Dillard Family to combine humanitarian efforts in all endeavors. I will also work diligently with the Student Government Association to create an umbrella that serves with the Dillard Family's best interests in mind at all times. Through physical, emotional, mental, and educational enhancement, I believe that we can achieve greatness as we all continue "Striving for a Better Community through Service." Thanks for affording me this opportunity to serve. I love you all.
May God Bless.

With Best Regards I Remain,

Candi R. Nash

Senior Spotlight

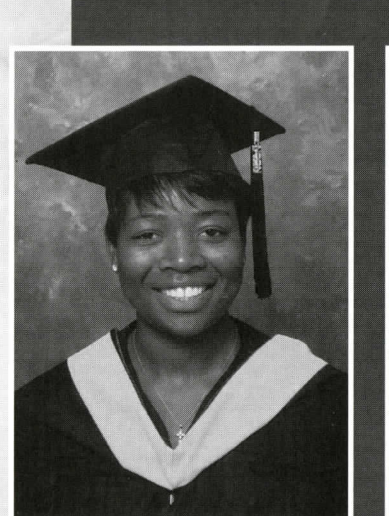

This senior spotlight comes as no surprise to many. David Kote' is a graduating senior from Atlanta, GA. Kote' came to the Dillard University family as a transfer student. He automatically shined the moment he came.

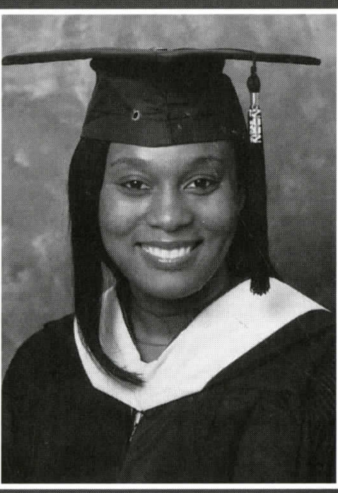

He is a senior member of the Freddie Hendricks Youth Ensemble of Atlanta. Kote's theater credits include: "Jitney", "The Dance on Windows Row", "Joe Turner's Come and Gone", "Lotto", and "The Last Season" just to name a few. He has made several appearances on television. Some of his appearances include: HBO's "A Lesson Before Dying", CBS's " Mama Flora's Family", "There is Hope" and "Passing Glory" on TNT. Kote' directed "Soweto! Soweto!Soweto!". This production appeared on Dillard's main stage and it won the hearts of many viewers. He has toured around the world to places such as Holland, Belgium, and South Africa.

While being actively involved in theater, Kote' has also managed to maintain good grades. He also has found time to balance his reposnsibilities in his fraternity. He became a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. in the spring of 2001. After graduation, he plans to go to graduate school and continue his professional career. Kote' says he has gained a lot while being at Dillard. "I learned a lot and I like the students and how supportive they are. I will miss them the most"!

Spotlight

Tene Felice James

Tene James, a very proud member of the class of 2003, is an Econom and finance major from St. Paul Minnesota. Tene entered Dillard in the fall of 1999. Since then Tene has built strong and lasting relationships, stayed scholastically grounded, worked in a proffessional environment and still finds time to have fun. Te is also a member of Phi Gamma Nu national Professional Business Fraternity.

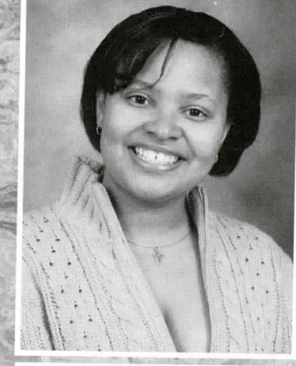

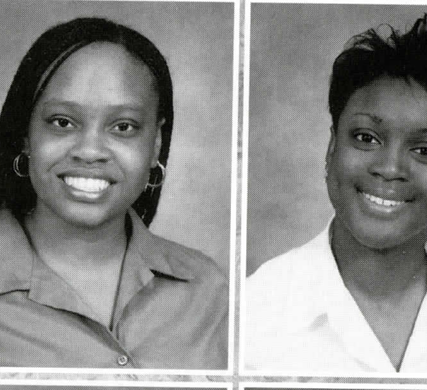

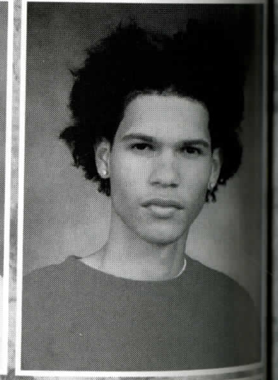

Tene believes that choosing Dillard University has been one of the smartest decisions that she has made in her life. "Not only w leave here with a taste of the Black college experience, but I will also leave with a sense of belonging to a family." Tene says that s loves the family-like atmosphere at Dillard and believes it has added to her growth. "Dillard is well oriented in the family as well a the community. The experiences I have endured here will remain with me for the rest of my life."

Class of 2004
Spotlight
Kenny Roy

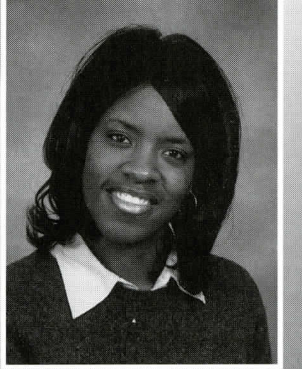

It is rare to find today, a college student who actually likes to do volunteer work. Kenny Roy is such a person. Kenny, originally from Mitchellville, Maryland, currently has a 3.1 grade point average that average allows him to remain active on the Dillard University tennis team, as well as Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. and Phi Gamma Nu National Proffessional Business Fraternity. When choosing an organization to join, Kenny considered the oppotunities they offered to serve the community. "Omega Psi Phi's main focus is service and Phi Gamma Nu is trying to enhance students on campus in their studies, especially in business," said Kenny. Through Omega Psi Phi, Kenny tutors New Orleans children at The Versailles. He also participated in the Omega's can food drive for Thanksgiving. Kenny participates in professional seminars around campus through Phi Gamma Nu.

On the tennis court Kenny has earned the title of number one in doubles and number two in singles. He did not divulge any other tennis recognitions, but instead stated, "Tennis...it's a team thing. It's not individual."

Kenny said Omega Psi Phi, Phi Gamma Nu and the tennis team keep him busy and he has not been able to volunteer a lot of his time outside of those things, but he did take time to participate in Junior Achievement and the Walk-A-Thon.

Point of View

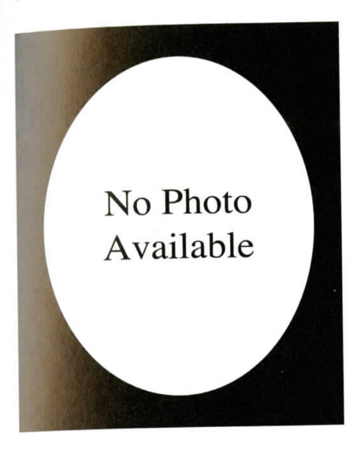

Glenn Wilson
Mass Commnications
New Orleans, La

"Dillard has been very influential to me since I've started school here." Glenn believes that Dillard is a place that will prepare him for his future goals. "I can't say that it has helped me yet, career wise, because I haven't reached that point. But I definitely believe that it will help me with my career."

" Dillard has opened my eyes to certain cultures and helped me to grow as a person." Ariane is sure to take in all of the experiences around her. She said she feels that Dillard will teach her useful things for her future career. One of those things is how to carry herself. "Dillard has helped me to develop a professional decorum."

Spotlight

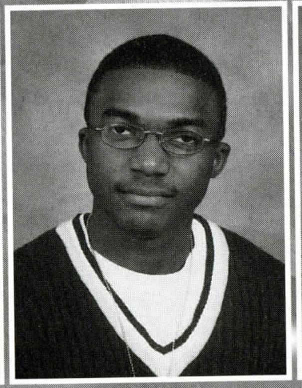

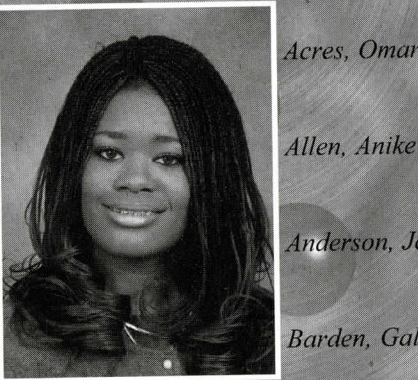

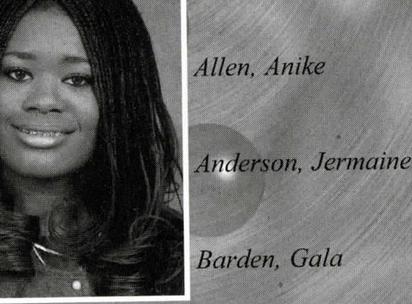

Kimilee Elaine Washington

Kimilee Elaine Washington was born on September 20, 1983 in Mobile, Alabama. Sh graduated from Murphy High School with an advanced diploma. " On August 18, 200, when I made my transition to Dillard, the only things I knew were it was by the grace of God I was here and I was going to do something," said Kimilee. One of the first organizations Kimilee joined was Nu Vizion Gospel Choir. "I didn't know what to expect, but I found out that it was more than a club it was a family." She also joined the Society of Intellectual Thought, where she currently serves as Sergeant-at-arms. As a member of SGA Members-At-Large, she has served as chair of the Student Advocacy committee. Kimilee is also a tutor for Communities in Schools at Israel St. Augustine Middle School. Just recently she joined Students In Free Enterprise.

"Being at Dillard, I have had the honor to experience many different aspects of life. Within a month of being here, I wanted to go home and never come aback. As the time passes, I began to feel more at home. People you knew and some you may have never seen before, would speak as they walked pass you going to class. Watching the Sunday evening football games on the Avenue of Oaks was almost like watching a family gathering. Sitting back in the lounge of Hartzell Hall every Sunday watching Lifetime was a bonding ritual between my friends and I. There are numerous little things that have made my first year one to the remember."

As Kimilee proceeds into the next year, she plans to continue her educational journey. As 2002- 2003 SGA Chaplain, her aspirations are to help unify Dillard students as well as assist in the spiritual uplifting of the campus. " It is my hope that I will utilize my time here at Dillard University in order to stay and improve upon being a well-rounded person. Although I know some things will change, I hope the little things stay the same...sitting on a bench by the Avenue of Oaks... laughing with the choir as we leave a performance...taking an hour to eat when it should only take 20 minutes. These are the things I will remember always."

Thy halls where men are men and free.
Arise, O sons and daughters, hail thy queen,
And pledge for aye thy loyalty.

Fair Dillard,
Flaming love and learning's light
Teach us each day, each passing hour
A deep'ning love for beauty, truth, and right
Source of all nobleness and pow'r.
And through the joyous day, the dreaded night,
Forever guide, Alma Mater!

Miss Tracy Trenika Cheavious

This page is dedicated to all those that I love the most and those that believed in me when I didn't believe in myself. First, I would like to thank God for guiding my steps and allowing my life to be a testimony. My gorgeous, smart, and brilliant little princess Macy. The queen in my life my Mommy for loving me unconditionally and supporting me all the way through. My beautiful big sister Bonnie for being there every single time I needed her. Love you Bee. My brothers Shawn and Vincent for getting on my nerves and making me feel special all the time. My grandmother who is 96 years old. Thank God for you . You are my inspiration. My nieces Vintrell and Trinity. My friends, no my sisters, Valence and Shaunte for putting up with me (I know im some work!). My teachers ,mentors ,counselors , family of light, friends, family, and each person the gave me a word of encouragement or lifted me up in prayer. I love yall!

Now a very special thanks to my best friend, my love, my backbone, and my everything TUT. Your the one that had to wipe away the tears, the one that had to hear the complaints , deal with the attitudes and hold my hand. No one can fill your shoes. Thank you from the bottom of my heart! Love you!

Trimuba this one is for you!

Best wishes to the class of 2002

BEST FRIENDS FOREVER!!!!

Well Tee this is it!

From the moment we first became friends four years ago, I knew we had a long road ahead of us of true friendship. We clicked together and it was like we knew each other for so long. We both were full of wisdom and we had confidence in each other.

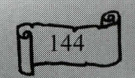

We also clicked spiritually together. One thing that I admired about us, is that no matter what we did or where we went we always put God first, and that is what it is all about. No one really knows what you go through by yourself and all thanks goes to the man above. Tee this is not the end. This is just the beginning of you becoming a dentist. I know you will make it because you have what it takes. You and I know that when you come across a road block like we did earlier in our friendship, what's important is that you dust it off, forgive, and try again

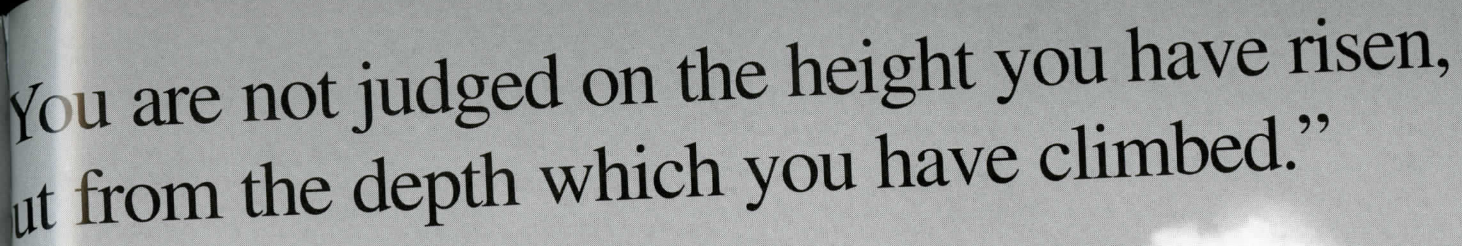

So all I want to say that I am very proud of you. You are very strong and you have what it takes. No one can do it like we can, it's all about the level we are on.I know it rains and sometimes it rains harder than ever, but you know that sunshine comes in the morning

God Bless and Keep on Keepin On
